

TEST DAY FOR MOTO2
18/11/11 at Valencia with
ITALTRANS

The Japanese pilot Takaaki NAKAGAMI, who has signed with Italtrans for the season of 2012, has tested our products (front fork and damper) during the private tests at Valencia, from the 16th to the 18th October 2011.

But the Italian team has lost a lot of time because of the very inclement weather.. Italtrans were here to do a large number of test in the offseason (such as testing a Kalex bike : motorcycle of the Moto2 World Champion 2011).

This is on a semi-dry track where the Suter and its Japanese pilot was finally able to roll, signing very good lap times despite the specific weather conditions not optimal ..

Day test still positive for Donerre !

KTM MX ACADEMY
Thomas Do and Paul
Stauder chosen.

The sports department of KTM France offered an opportunity for young drivers (13-18 years) wishing to engage in the Junior Championship of France 2012 to get a handlebar official !

"54 application files, of which 15 candidates were selected to participate at the final on the field of Guilleville. Two days of selection to allow everyone to show the best of himself. A jury of professionals of the bike (pilots, engineers, journalists, managers).

After tests of Saturday (mechanical, communication and travel), the jury had to choose five pilots. Eventually they were 6 to stay : Yannick Isruti, Thomas Do, Joachim Falden, Dan Houzet, Remy Mordret and Paul Stauder.

Sunday, after physical tests and new running sessions, it is Thomas Do and Paul Stauder who were retained. "

Eric Bernard, head of sports:

"The choice is always difficult because the level of drivers is excellent. The six finalists were very close but we had only two seats. There must be the disappointment but initially all have the same opportunities.

We hope that the selections are open to all junior drivers without prior regardless of brand. The two pilots who will represent KTM in 2012 are selected but the operation will be renewed for 2013."
